LET'S KNIT BABY GARMET PATTERN

Penelope

by Jenny Watson is perfect for spring babies

Crochet works really well for openwork jackets such as this one. The bodice is worked in a simple treble crochet-based stitch pattern, while the skirt features a more delicate and lacy design. Baby projects are the ideal choice if you've never made a garment before, you learn all the principles of shaping and construction but they take less time and the finished make is so much cuter!

KEEP KNITTING ON PT1

knitwise

KNITTING A HOOD: The easiest way of knitting a hood is to work it in two halves. The stitches can be picked up around the neck, or as in this case, cast on. Work each side as a mirror image of the other, then sew the two parts together using mattress stitch.

knitwise

TIPS FROM THE TOP:

- Always knit the first and last stitches of any row to give an even edge to the work
- Never join yarn in the middle of a row, make sure you have enough yarn to knit a full row (or rows) and join the new ball at a row end that will become part of a seam. Also, a row counter is really useful for this pattern.

LET'S KNIT BABY GARMENT PATTERN

Jessie uses bright shades and textured stitches in this stylish jacket from Patons

Look how happy this little lady looks in her new outfit! The garter stitch and rib patterned hem adds interesting detail to the lower edge and cuffs. The yoke section is also worked in rib which brings a contrasting texture to this stocking stitch jacket. We love it when bold colours are used for baby knits but this yarn also comes in softer shades if you'd prefer.

LET'S KNIT BABY ACCESSORY PATTERN

bring a touch of whimsical fun and look delightful on tiny feet

When Tamara Mello's book Heart Felt Knits arrived at LK HQ, we just fell in love with these cute little booties. Based on the pointed design of elf shoes, they are knitted in pure wool and felted to produce a durable fabric that is ideal for withstanding your baby's first steps. Remember that the booties will shrink during felting so don't be alarmed if they look too large when you've finished knitting!

- Rep from  to  until i-cord meas 25cm

To make up

Weave in all ends neatly. Cut handles from a plastic bag or use a length of cotton waste yarn to thread through eyelets on either side of Cuff. Knot to secure. This will keep your eyelets open during felting

Felting

To felt by hand see Knit Wise, or place item into washing machine with a pair of jeans or a few towels. Wash on a hot setting until booties have shrunk to desired size. Check regularly to prevent over-felting. We suggest felting i-cords by hand to stop them tangling. During felting, turn booties inside out and back several times to ensure even felting. Once felted, thread i-cords through eyelets and stuff booties with plastic bags to keep the shape whilst they dry. Add stick-on gnp pads if the recipient is walking LK

knitwise

FELTING BY HAND: Place booties into bowl of very hot water. Wearing rubber gloves, add a few drops of detergent and agitate the fabric for 5-10 minutes to start felting process. Remove item from hot water, wring out, and plunge into ice cold water. Wring out item gently but thoroughly and return to hot water. Rub knitting together, adding more detergent as necessary. After another five minutes, plunge piece back into ice water. Gently squeeze out excess water. Keep alternating between hot and cold water treatments until desired felted effect is achieved. Rinse out detergent then roll knitting in a towel to squeeze out excess water. Reshape if necessary, then leave to dry.

knitwise

GARTER STITCH: This pattern is perfect for beginners as it is worked entirely in garter stitch. Remember that when counting your rows, you may need to stretch the work out slightly to see between each 'ridge'. A ridge only forms every other row.

TECHNIQUE Yarn forward

1 Between knit stitches lift the ball of the yarn towards you between the two needles. This is yfwd.

2 Insert the needle into the next stitch to knit as the pattern directs and take the yarn back (away from you) so it lies over the right needle. Then, wrap the yarn anticlockwise around the right needle and knit the stitch.

LET'S KNIT BABY GARMENT PATTERN

Paris is an easy garter stitch jacket from Bergere de France that's ideal for beginners

Baby garments don't come simpler than this garter stitch jacket. It has no additional shaping as the neck is worked by casting off stitches, rather than using a series of decreases. The pockets are worked separately and sewn on during the making up. Grey is a lovely neutral colour choice but Paris would also look great in pink or white!

RAGLAN SLEEVES: This is a style of sleeve that is named after Lord Raglan, who lost the use of one arm during the battle of Waterloo. He requested that the opening at the top of his sleeves be made wider so he could put them on more easily. This is why raglan seams run from the underarm, all the way to the neck edge. Both the sleeves and the body of the garment feature similar diagonal decreases, which are then matched as the seam is sewn.

Daisy uses pretty embroidery and unusual stitch detail, and this little dress will be a popular choice

When using intricate stitches on small projects, it's important not to go overboard and this dress strikes the perfect balance. The interesting daisy stitch is only used around the edges and the waist, which allows it to really stand out. The stitch is worked over two rows and involves clusters of stitches. Read our special abbreviations before you begin.

Rosalee

Rico shows that sometimes the simplest designs can also be the best!

With simple shaping and a fast set to sleeves, this cardigan is a great choice for beginners looking to master garment construction. It is worked in plain stocking stitch with a basic ribbed edging. More adventurous knitters could try adding stripes or an intarsia colourwork motif for added interest.

PATTERN TIPS: When there are several steps to one instruction, such as the complex-looking strings of shaping instructions, you may find it helps to rewrite these by hand, breaking down each step. This not only makes it less daunting and easier to follow, but also gives you a heads up as to what you will be doing next. This is particularly useful with At the Same Time instructions.

Right front border

□ Using 3.25mm needles, with RS facing and beg at base of right side seam, pick up and k 10 (11, 13, 14, 14) sts from right front cast-on edge. 29 (30, 34, 37, 43) sts down right opening edge to beg of front slope shaping. 30 (34, 36, 40, 42) sts up right front slope, then 10 (12, 12, 14, 14) sts across back neck to centre back neck point. 79 (87, 95, 105, 113) sts

□ Rows 1-2: work as for Back hem border

□ Row 3 (buttonhole): rib 41 (47, 49, 55, 57), cast off two sts, rib to end

□ Row 4: rib to end casting on two sts over cast-off gap on prev row

EDGING EXPLAINED: The edging for Thumbelina is worked separately and stitched on afterwards. You cast on four stitches and on the first row increase up to six stitches. Although you would usually expect to see corresponding decreases on the following row, in this design you don't decrease until the last row of the repeat. Cast off two stitches at the beginning of Row 4 to take you back to the original four stitches.

LET'S KNIT BABY GARMENT AND ACCESSORY PATTERNS

Samson & Bravo

make a cute matching set for boys from Designer Yarns

Knitted in Baby Joy DK from Designer Yarns' new Choices range, this cardigan is full of interesting texture and features crossed stitches and a rib effect. The construction is rather unusual as you cast on all your stitches first then divide for the Back and Fronts. You will need to use a circular needle to begin with. The matching booties are worked flat, and are finished off with a pretty ribbon.

EXPLAINING THE PATTERN: Think of this sweater in two halves. The bottom section is worked in a 12-row Honeycomb pattern, which is based on a [k2, p4] rib, with crossed sts every few rows. The pattern is off-set to create the honeycomb effect. Pay close attention to the edge sts as this is where the pattern becomes less clear. The top section is worked in plain [k2, p4] rib. Note that odd-numbered rows are actually WS rows.

"Both moss stitch and basketweave are easy to work."

Remember to move the yarn between the tips of the needles when changing from knit to purl stitches and vice versa"

LK DEPUTY EDITOR
ADRIENNE CHANDLER

LET'S MAKE BABY HOMEWARES PATTERN

Precious from Cygnet will keep your baby
snug as a bug and is a great gift
for a new mum

This little blanket features moss stitch and basketweave, both of which are worked by alternating different numbers of knit and purl stitches, and can easily be achieved by beginners. The designer opted for a classic white shade, but feel free to choose something brighter or a colour scheme to match the nursery.

BLANKET

Using 4mm needles cast on 122 sts

LET'S KNIT BABY ACCESSORY PATTERN

Orangelo

by Norah Gaughan is a cute bib inspired by the segments of an orange!

Quick to knit and essential for the new mum, bibs make great gifts for little ones. This design uses shaped decreases to create an orange segment effect. The ties are worked by picking up stitches so there's no sewing
up. When substituting for this pattern, make sure you use a machine washable yarn to keep your bib practical.

Bib

Using 6.5mm needles cast on 86
(100) sts

- Row 1 (RS): k1, [k2tog, k8 (10), ssk, pm] seven times, k1, 72 (86) sts
- K five rows
- Change to st st
- Next row (RS): k1, [k2tog, k to two sts before marker, ssk, sm] seven times, k1
- Dec as set above on every fourth row 3 (4) more times, 16 sts
- Work three rows in st st without shaping, removing markers
- Next row (RS): k1, [k2tog] seven times, k1, Nine sts
- Work one row without shaping
- Next row: [k3tog] three times, Three sts
- Cast off

Tie

Using 6.5mm needles cast on 34
(40) sts

- Turn work so that cast-on sts are on RH needle
- With RS of Bib facing, pick up and k one st at corner of cast-on edge and right side edge, pass last Tie cast-on st over picked up st, pick up and k 33 (39) sts along short edge of Bib, turn
- Next row: cast on 33 (39) sts, k to end, 100 (118) sts
- Cast off pwise LK

knitwise

SHAPED DEREASES: It is important to use the right decreases to create the shape of the segments. A k2tog decrease makes the stitches lean to the right, whereas an ssk decrease makes them lean to the left.
